

Reclaim Power

Western North Carolina

Aug 18-22 southeast action camp

People working for justice, peace and a sustainable future in the Southeast are coming together for a long weekend of workshops, trainings, strategizing, and direct action! Our region faces a range of threats from coal mining and nuclear waste and rising sea levels to racist anti-immigrant laws and the military industrial complex. It's time to come together and reclaim our power.

trainings and workshops including:

community organizing - nonviolent direct action - nuclear energy - blockades - street medics mountaintop removal mining - know your rights - war resistance - media skills anti-oppression - movement music - strategic campaigning planning, - street theater - and more

Climate Justice - Social Justice - Direct Action - Community
